

Jarrett Engelhardt Pagano Scholarship Fund

Update

November 2023-May 2024

See what a horse can do for you!

Since 1995 Pal-O-Mine's mission has been, and continues to be, to provide a comprehensive therapeutic equine program using horses to facilitate growth, learning and healing. Our populations include children and adults with disabilities, those who have been abused or neglected, the military and the impoverished.

Jarrett's scholarship fund covers the costs for our various equine assisted healing programs:

- Adaptive Horseback Riding & Unmounted Horsemanship
- Equine Assisted Psychotherapy
- Equine Assisted Learning
- Speech & Occupational Therapy
- Job Security Through Equine Partnership
- Veteran Programs

Jarrett started volunteering at Pal-O-Mine at Caumsett State Park when he was 17 years old. He was a very talented equestrian and over the years Jarrett worked for Pal-O-Mine when Lisa needed him to train horses. Jarrett preferred to work on the days that his favorite kids would come for equine assisted therapy.

He arranged his schedule so he could volunteer for their sessions. Matthew was a nonverbal 8-year-old boy with autism, after working with him for almost 8 months, Matthew spoke his first words: "Ja" and "horse".

Matthew's mom told Jarrett that he was his son's hero.

Jarrett told us that Matthew was his. Thank you for your donation to help keep Jarrett's love for Pal-O Mine, horses and children a living legacy.

“

We are so grateful to be recipients of Jarrett's scholarship. Pal-O-Mine Equestrian is a magical place. It is changing my anxious and depressed granddaughter into a happy and confident child. Just yesterday she told me and her mother that because of Pal-O-Mine she feels like she is becoming the "best version of herself."

-Grateful Grandmother

“

Your generous donation is helping our children to receive speech therapy at Pal-O-Mine. As they continue to improve, we are so grateful for the generous funds provided. This means the world to us.

-Recipient Parents

“

Our son is a nonverbal five -year- old on the Autism Spectrum. He struggles with communicating his needs clearly and has sensory input challenges. Your grant has a direct and lasting impact for Dylan as he is able to continue his journey to find his voice.
